

have not come, make them conquerors of Maya as well then you will not have to write too many letters. It will be enough to simply write, "OK". Enough! Do not write long letters, but simply "OK". Write good news by all means but briefly.

BapDada speaking to the Teachers

BapDada has special love for the teachers because they are equal. The Father is also the Teacher and you are also master teachers. Those who are equal are more beloved. With enthusiasm and courage you are moving forward in service very well. You are all world emperors. Touring around and coming into contact with innumerable souls, you are accomplishing the task of bringing those innumerable souls close. BapDada is happy. Do you feel that BapDada is happy with us? Do you think that now there is only a little more remaining to be done? BapDada is happy but you are to please Him even more. You are making good effort. You are making effort with love: that is why it does not feel like effort. BapDada always calls serviceable children the crown of BapDada's head: you are the crown of His head. Seeing the children's courage and enthusiasm BapDada gives help to increase their courage and enthusiasm. Baba takes multi-million steps for each step the children take. Where there is courage, there is automatic attainment of enthusiasm. If there is courage, the Father's help is received, this is why you are the carefree kings. Just continue to do service and there will continue to be success. Achha.

13th February, 1984

Peace and Love—the Specialities of your Life

The Ocean of Peace and Love has come to meet His children, the peace loving ones who are the embodiment of love.

BapDada sees the one desire of all souls of the world, the desire for real love. BapDada has come to show the easy method by which this desire can be fulfilled. BapDada has come to the children for this reason. For a long period of time, in a variety of different ways, children have been trying to fulfill this desire. Seeing all this, the Merciful Father feels great mercy. They are the children of the Bestower and yet, they are asking for peace, for even a short while, for just a moment. The children, the ones who have claimed all rights and yet they have become beggars and are thirsty for peace and love.

Searching for these, stumbling around, some children have been lost hope and the question arises: "Is it possible to have eternal peace in the world? Is it possible for all souls to have attainment of real love"?

Baba Himself has to come in order to give the answer to the question that the children have. BapDada has come to give this good news to the children that, you, my children, yesterday were the masters of the world filled with peace and happiness. That at that time all souls were tied together with the thread of love. Peace and love were the specialities of your life. Yesterday you were masters of the world.

Today you are creating this and tomorrow you will again be in that world. It was only yesterday that your world was of peace—there was nothing unavailable. Where there is lack of attainment, the cause is impurity. In the world where there is nothing unattainable, everything that you desire will exist in practical form. This is the destiny of Drama.

It is immovable, unshakable, no-one can change it. That which is destined is fixed already.

Who are you all? The foundation stone of the new creation. This is why you have come here. The twice born Brahmin soul means the image of Foundation for the new world.

BapDada sings a song and your song:

*"Only you are my love, only you are my friend, my beloved.
I speak to only you, listen to only you, I only want to dance with you. That is bliss."*

You played your part of serving the world with the depth of love from the heart. BapDada swings you in the cradle of His heart of love and congratulates you. May you always have progress, fly, have success. The experience: everyone's co-operation and love makes the task successful. Seeing the effort of love filled in every child, if BapDada were to sing the praises it wouldn't be enough. Father's praise and the praise of the children who are servers is also beyond limit.

It is not guests who have come to Baba's home but those who are the great souls. Baba sees all as beloved, long lost children not as V.I.P.s. Children always sit on the throne of Baba's heart, V.I.P.s come and go. Children where-ever you go always sit on the throne, (never desire to be a V.I.P.)

Baba always sees the children as being the decoration of Madhuban. Achha.

To all those who have determined thought, stars of success, those always seated on the heart throne, the images of Father, of the new creation. Those who give new life, new light to the world forever, who give others the experience of true love, the living co-operative children who are constant companions, BapDada's yaad, pyar and namaste.

18th February, 1984

You have become the embodiment of visions through the father

Today, the Ocean of Love has come to have a meeting with His lovely children, who are always merged in His love. As the children show so much love for Father, the Father in return comes in this corporeal world as a return of their love, multimillionfold

The Father makes His children bodiless and Incorporeal like Himself and the children in return of love, make the Incorporeal as well as Angelic Father corporeal like them—this is the wonder of love.

On seeing the wonder of the children's love BapDada is very happy. BapDada sings the song of virtues of His children. He is happy to see how the children are Bap saman, equal to father by always being coloured in His company. BapDada calls such children who follow the Father as obedient, loyal, true invaluable jewels. Compared to what you are, these physical diamonds and pearls are worthless, like mud. Do you consider yourselves to be this invaluable? Are you able to get such experience? Are all of you able to feel that you are invaluable victorious pearls of Baba's rosary? Do you have that much self respect? Not self ego but self respect. Do the double-foreign children have this much joy and intoxication in them? That even though all living at such a far off distance, that BapDada has found you and made you His own child. The world is searching for the Father and the Father has searched for us and found us. Do you feel that with so much intoxication in the same way as Baba?

The world is thirsty for the meeting with Father and here you children already have the meeting. The world is crying out to God by saying God come, God come and here all of you, numberwise, of course, what song do you sing here, when in all the world all are searching.

This song is, "I am sitting with you

I am sitting with you. May I always be with you."

So see the contrast. On one hand, the crying out and on the other hand is the contrast of company. There is the contrast of day and night, isn't there? On one hand are the souls thirsty for even the achievement of one second and here all of you are the embodiments of all achievements. They are the ones just calling out, singing Baba's praise and here you are the ones who are sitting on Father's lap, that is following His directions at every step. They are thirsty for a vision and here you have become the embodiment of visions through the Father.

Wait and see. Very soon the sufferings will increase and then you'll see what will happen. At that time they will be thirsty for a glimpse of a second and come to you for that. At present you invite them, you call them, but later on they will beg you for a meeting of even a second. They will say: "Please let us meet."

Such practical embodiment of visions you will become. At that time they will realise the importance of your highest life and highest achievements more than they do now.

Even amongst you, some of you forget the highest life and achievements because of your ordinary actions and carelessness but when the souls who are lacking the achievements will come to you thirsty for the achievements, at that time—you will realise your importance much more and will experience who we are and who they are.

At this time because you are getting so many treasures from Baba so easily, this is why sometimes you don't give that much value to your life and the treasures that you receive therefore you think it to be very ordinary. But each version, each word that Baba speaks, each second, each breath of Brahmin life is so elevated. This you will experience very soon in the future. Every second of Brahmin life gives the achievement of highest fruit not just for one life but many. One second lost means the fruit of many births lost. You are such elevated souls with such an invaluable life, such elevated fortunate special souls you are.

The Father has come to meet such elevated children. Do all double foreign children always remember this or sometimes remember and sometimes forget how elevated this life is? So remember this always. Haven't you become the embodiment of such remembrance? Such elevated life? Those who are the embodiments of that remembrance can't forget. They don't have to remember with effort but are already the embodiment of that remembrance.

Achha.

Today BapDada has come to have a meeting in particular because you had this thought for so long—I have to meet—and that thought is going to be fulfilled today. This is why Baba will keep speaking more murlis.

Achha.

To those who are always experiencing a meeting with celebration, those always being coloured in the company of the Father, those who know the importance of their life, the time as well as their achievements, those who always follow Father at every step, to such long lost worthy children BapDada's yaad, pyar and namaste.

20th February, 1984

The moment of recognising the Father is the Time of awakening the Fortune

Today, the Fortunemaker Father is being delighted upon seeing all His fortunate children. Each child has come here, like a kalpa ago, after having awakened his fortune. You have come here after having awakened your fortune. Why? Because to recognise the Father means the awakening of fortune. A special gathering of double-foreigner children is happening at this Land of Blessings.

That moment at which the children recognised and accepted "my Baba", that is the moment which is the most fortunate time. The time of the awakening of the fortune. That very moment is the noblest of all, and the most beautiful of all in the whole cycle, in the whole kalpa. You all can remember that moment can't you? To take something, to become something, or to meet, to take the rights—that you will continue to do throughout the Confluence Age. But that moment in which you changed from an orphan into the one who has parents, in which you became so different from before that moment of meeting, that moment of awakening of the fortune, how noble and how great is that moment? It is even nobler than the life of paradise. Do you remember that first moment when you became Father's? When 'mine' became 'thine', and by that you became double light. You became light of all the burdens of 'mine'. You got the wings of happiness and you left the floor and started flying in the sky. From a stone you became a true diamond.

You became free of countless cycles and you became the one who has the cycle of self realisation. Do you recollect that moment? The moment when you came under the influence of Jupiter, in which was found the fortune of all achievements of body, mind, as well as relationships. You became the most fortunate, therefore you received such a great line as well as sign of fortune. Do you remember this? Your third eye opened, and you could see the Father. Don't you all experience this? Aren't you singing this song in your heart "Oh, how great that moment was". All the praise goes to that very moment.

So BapDada is very happy on seeing all his fortunate children who have experienced that great moment and come under the highest sign. BapDada says, "How great are my heir children—the children of the first man (Adi Dev), who are going to claim the first kingdom". BapDada says "How great are my heir children who are going to claim the eternal and imperishable rule". BapDada says "You children are my heir children, the sikiladhe, loving, companion children". BapDada is so proud of you and has so much intoxication.

The people of the world look to find a true life companion, a real friend who will fulfill their expectations of love, but they are not satisfied still, and say that none of their friends are true ones. And see here, BapDada has got so many real friends! Hasn't he got so many? And not just friends, but each one of you is greater than the other. Aren't you his real friends? You are such true companions, that even if you have to die, you won't mind, you will never betray the Companion—arent you such true life companions? What is BapDada's life? Do you know? World Service is BapDada's life. And who are the companions of such a life of His? All of you, aren't you? Just see, BapDada has got so many children who are his real companions of life, and companions who are going to fulfil the relationship of a friend.

In what do you keep yourself day and night? In being in His company, don't you! What thought always comes in the mind of all His life companion children? To beat the drums of service. Isn't only this always in your mind? Haven't you brought the proof of your service by becoming merged in His love and doing service in His company? You are being successful according to your aim. As much as you have done up to now, according to the drama, that much is very good. But what are you to do in the future? You have to move much more ahead.

This is why, please, each one of you accept the flowers of love which Baba is showering on all of you. Though some are not here, still their love is reaching. Many of you have brought their letters. BapDada is giving very loveful love and remembrance to even those children who are not here in physical form, but in their subtle forms. BapDada is giving response of love and remembrance to all the children who are in different parts of the world. All of you are very loving. You are the life companions of BapDada. You are the ones who will keep fulfilling BapDada's companionship. Such near souls you are. This is why, even before the letters or messengers reach BapDada. BapDada is giving their response.

Now, children, you should spread the voice in such a way, and so