

This is why they worship the goddess of contentment in order to be able to have contentment for themselves. All you souls are the ones who are content, the mothers of contentment. Everyone is content, are you not? You the contented souls are the image of contentment.

You are the ones who have attained success as your birthright from BapDada now. This is why they go in front of your images and ask for donations or blessings of success. But, because their intellects are limited, because the souls are without power, because they have become beggar souls, they ask for only temporary success. Just as a beggar will never say, "Give me 1,000 rupees", but will say, "Give me a little bit of money; give me two rupees", in the same way these souls are beggars searching for peace, happiness and purity. So they will ask for only temporary success. They say, "Let this task of mine be fulfilled; let there be success in this", but they ask you for success, the souls who have become the embodiment of success.

They go in front of your images. You are the children of the Father who is the Comforter of Hearts, and they reveal the state of their hearts in front of you, and also in front of the Father who claims all hearts. Now you are able to say the things to the Father that you are not able to say to any other soul. You become the true children of the true Father, and so, even today, they go in front of your images and speak of the things that are in their hearts. Even if there is something to be hidden from others, something they will hide from their most loving relation, they will not hide it from you, the deities.

In front of the world they will say, "I am this, I am true, I am great" but what will they say in front of the deities? "This is what I am; yes, I have lust, I am corrupt". And so you are the ones who are the fortune of the new world.

In each one's fortune is the fortune of the kingdom of the pure world. You are such elevated souls that you are the ones who are the bestowers of the law, the bestowers of blessings and the bestowers of the correct method. In the hands of each one of you is the globe of the self-sovereign kingdom of heaven. The hands are the ones of elevated instructions. This is the butter, the butter of the fortune of the kingdom. On each one's head is the crown of the light of the greatness of purity. You are the ones who are seated on the heart-throne. You are the ones who wear the tilak of self-sovereignty.

So do you understand: "Who am I"? This is the first riddle that you come here to solve: "Who am I"? This was the lesson that you learnt the first day: "Who am I? I am not this, but this is what I am". The total knowledge of the Ocean of Knowledge is merged within this; and everyone has understood this. Let this spiritual intoxication remain with you always.

This is how elevated you are, how great you are. Every thought, every action is becoming a memorial and is laying down the method for the system. Take it with this elevated consciousness. The vision of the world is focused on you souls. "Whatever I do now will become the method for the world, and will become a memorial. If I come into upheaval the whole world will be in upheaval. If I remain content and fulfilled, then the world will become content and fulfilled also". This is the responsibility on each one of you souls who are the instruments responsible for world renewal. But as great as this responsibility is, so too it is light, because the Almighty Authority, the Father, is with you. Achha.

Baba speaking to the Kumars:

1st Group:

All of you are the elevated kumars, are you not? Not ordinary kumars but elevated ones, the ones who use the power of the body and the power of the mind in an elevated task. Not ones who use their power in a perishable task, or a vicious task, that of destruction, but the elevated task, the Godly task. And so the ones who use all their powers in the Godly task are the elevated kumars. Do you ever use any power in an account which is wasteful? You now have the understanding of how to use all your powers. Perform elevated action constantly with this understanding. The ones who always remain engaged in the elevated task are the ones who claim the right from the most elevated attainment. You are the ones with such attainment are you not? Do you experience that you are receiving elevated attainment, or is it that it will happen in the future?

Now at every step there should be an income of multi-millions being accumulated. This is your experience, is it not? If at every step there is an income of multi-millions being accumulated, how elevated you are. If someone is able to accumulate so much treasure, so much wealth, how great is their happiness. Today a millionaire, or a multi-millionaire has perishable happiness but your property is imperishable.

Do you understand the definition of being an elevated kumar? One who always uses every power in the elevated task. Let the account of waste be finished forever. Or is it that you accumulate credit within the elevated account and yet the other still continues? There isn't time now to let both continue together, but let one finish. Let it be finished for all time. If both continue then you are not able to accumulate as much as you could. If nothing is lost and everything continues to be stored, how great is the stock. If the account of waste finishes completely then the account of that which is worthwhile and powerful will be stored.

2nd Group:

The life of a kumar means a life which is powerful. You are able to achieve that which you want within the kumar's life. You can make yourself elevated, or you can make yourself fall, as you choose. The life of a kumar is that which can be the most elevated, or the most degraded. It is at such a time in life that you have now come to the Father to belong to Him. Instead of tying yourself into the karmic bondage of a companion for a perishable life you have chosen a companion for eternal life, a true companion. How fortunate you are. When you came here did you come alone, or did you come combined? You didn't have to spend money on a ticket (for your companion) did you? This amount you were able to save. If you had brought a companion of your body, you would have had to spend money on a ticket, you would have had to pick up her luggage, and you would have had to earn an income and feed her every day. This Companion doesn't eat anything but just simply takes the fragrance. Your roti doesn't become less, but even more power is filled within it. And so, without any expense and without any effort, you are able to have companionship which is eternal, and full co-operation.

This One, doesn't take your effort and yet gives you so much help and co-operation. If any difficult task comes, all you need to do is remember and you receive co-operation. This is your experience, is it not? If bhagats are able to receive the fruits of bhakti, are those who experience companionship of life not able to experience that company? Kumars have become combined but in this combined form you become the carefree emperors, no complications, completely carefree. Today a child becomes sick, today a child doesn't go to school. None of these burdens. Constantly free from all bondage. By coming into bondage of One you are liberated from being tied into innumerable other bondages. Eat, drink, have pleasure. What other tasks do you have? Cook with your own hands and eat that; eat whatever it is you choose, you are completely free. How elevated you have become. You are good even by the standards of the world. You realise, don't you, that you have been saved from the complications of the world. Set aside the question of the soul, but even by the calculation of the karmic bondages of the body, you have been saved. This is how safe you are. It doesn't ever enter your heart, "Someone gyani could be my companion does it? That would not be benefit; that would be damage. Why? Because, by tying yourself in one bondage, innumerable other bondages will begin. One bondage will create many other bondages. You will not receive help, you will just experience burdens. Externally it may seem to be help, but it will be the burden of innumerable tensions. There would be as much burden as you could even imagine, and so you have become safe from innumerable burdens. Don't even think about it in your dreams, otherwise there would be such burdens experienced it will be difficult to take it. If after experiencing independence and freedom you then come into bondage, it becomes multi-million times bondage. If a poor person out of ignorance is tied in bondage, that is different to the state where you, understanding recognising, then tie yourself in bondage. There will then be the added burden of great repentance. No-one is weak in this, are they? If someone is weak then there is no salvation because then they belong neither here, nor there, but you are the ones who have attained salvation. Salvation means the most elevated destination. Is there the slightest other thought that comes? A photograph is being taken. If there is the slightest fluctuation, then this is visible in the photograph also. The stronger you are now, the more elevated your present and the future.

3rd Group:

All of you are powerful kumars are you not? Whatever thoughts powerful souls have, whatever words they speak, whatever actions they perform, are all powerful. The meaning of powerful means the ones who have finished that which is wasteful, the ones who have finished the account of waste, and are constantly accumulating in the account of that which is worthwhile and powerful. There is never anything wasteful that continues is there? Wasteful thoughts, or wasteful words, or time that is wasted? If even a second is lost how much is lost? How great is a second of the Confluence Age. It isn't a second, but one second is equivalent to a life-time. And so it isn't one second that has gone, but it is one life-time that has been lost.

The ones who recognise the value of this, are the ones who are powerful souls. Let there always be the consciousness, "I am the child of the all-powerful Father, a powerful soul. I am the instrument for a powerful task". With this you will constantly experience the flying stage. One who is weak cannot fly. One who is powerful will constantly keep flying. And so what is the stage you are experiencing, the flying stage or the stage of ascent? Even by just ascending you can become breathless, you can become tired. And in the flying stage you can reach your destination in a second and be the embodiment of success.

If you are in the stage of ascent then you will be tired and you will become breathless. There will be the thought, "What can I do? I do it?" But the flying stage means going beyond all this. A touching will come: "This is what I must do". It is as if it is done already. And so a powerful soul means one who is able to reach the destination of success in a second.

Baba is happy that all children should be the ones who experience the flying stage. Why should they labour? The Father will always say that My child should be saved from labour. The Father is showing you the way and is making you double-light. Why do you come down? There is a burden through the thought, "What will happen? How can it happen?" But always move forward in the consciousness, "There can only be benefit always. Everything is always elevated, and success is always my birthright".
Achha!
