Reflections:											Total for the Week:		Credit	Debit

For your ease the above chart has been created according to Baba's request for us to keep a checking account for 3 months. This one page contains a chart for 7 days. It is so designed to save on paper and to be essenceful. You could use a check mark, or be creative and choose your colors that would determine your debit and credit and the shades inbetween! These charts can be copied for the weeks ahead, completed and sent to Baba for final checking on March 28 2002!
